

Oblique

light. The oblique light head is pushing up and stretching the vertical stem just like a bean sprout. The design is expressing 2 dimensions that make the piece nearly disappear in some angles and express a solid support in others. More or less high the exterior envelope wraps around the light source head to hold it in place. The slight angle pointing down will project the LED light via the high performance reflector that will not only avoid glare but also draw and silent light zone. Ground level and wall-mounted versions are part of the collection to provide a complete solution for all need of the outdoor space in both privet and public spaces. The solid vertical part is adaptable in projects to different height and provide secure structure.
