

STAGIONE 40191

The four seasons

The STAGIONE collection offers a tour of the seasons. In collaboration with the designer trio of atelier oï, Ruckstuhl has found inspiring paths and possibilities of implementation. Based on pure new wool, the four resulting creations embody strong colours and make a modern impression. Like a natural spectacle, each colour rectangle stands for itself while at the same time overflowing at points into one of the adjoining areas. This gives rise to new and fascinating colour shades, which define the look of the four models. In terms of the formal design, the deliberate aim was to follow the freedom of nature. STAGIONE does not allow itself to be subordinated, but relies on its individuality and creates richly variegated islands of colour.
